

Pikes Peak Billiard Club FAQs:

1. Players who have no average are new players to 8-Ball. It takes four games to establish an average. Meaning, if a brand-new players first night score puts the team average over the cap, it will not count against the team until that players 5th week of play.
2. Any new player joining an existing team must use his/her actual score on the first night for his/her average. The player must play all 5 games on their first night.
3. If an entire team has no established averaged players, for the first night, all males start as 40 & females start as 35.
4. The team with the lower average gets the difference of the two teams' average added to their actual points.
5. If a substitution occurs, use the higher of the two averages. (see CS substitutions in Captains email)
6. Anyone with an average of 34, and under, may have one time out per game. New players with no average do not get a time out.
7. Individual forfeits are zero for the forfeiting player and the player receiving the forfeit win gets their average divided by five and rounded to the next whole number.
 - a. Example: $37/5=7.4=7$ points, $38/5=7.6=8$ points.
8. Full team forfeits are 200 to 0 and weekly dues must still be paid by both teams.
 - a. Paid forfeit weeks – team will get a win and 200 points and 5 players will get 5 wins.
Weekly dues must still be paid.
9. If there is a tied match after the 25 games, and everything is added correctly, a tiebreaker will be played. Both teams will choose a player from their current lineup. Flip for choice of break, loser breaks thereafter. Best 2 out of 3 games win! Winner gets 1 point added to the team total.
10. Handicap cap 8-ball division
 - a. Typical team caps are B, 195, 200 & 202.
 - b. Any cap B – Max of two players with handicap of 39-41 OR one player with handicap 42 or over.
 - i. Any team winning the handicap B division will move up to the higher division for a minimum of one session.
 - c. Any cap division of 195 - maximum of 2 players with handicap 40 or over.

11. Players shouting out fouls or any other guidance to teammates whose turn it is, will forfeit their next game (this will also result in a ball in hand foul for the opponent). If the shouting player has completed all their match games, then 10 points will be deducted from their team's total score. This includes members of the team whether they are in the lineup for that match or not, or any spectator that has a relation to the team (spectator will receive one warning before points are deducted from the team).
- 12. If you choose to bring a protest/challenge to our League Officers, the cost is now $100.
- 13. Pikes Peak Billiard Club reserves the right to refuse service to any establishment and/or individuals at any time.
